Worship and Liturgy

In the gospel this week, we will hear about how Jesus did something very special at a wedding in Cana, changing water into wine. Let's think about the changes we can make in our lives and in our world.

What changes do you think we can make to help build a fairer world, so that all people have what they need to live happy, healthy and peaceful lives?

Mr Dyson's Update

I am delighted with the start we have had to the new term. Last week, I informed you of some of the changes that we were making and all three have been really well received which is great.

Well done to all of those who have managed to get signed up to Class Dojo - some of you will have opened up today's newsletter via the Dojo App. We will continue to email too for the next few weeks whilst we transition, so I encourage everyone to sign up to Dojo as it is an easier means of communicating with the whole school family than emails are. We will of course still add the newsletter and other letters to the website.

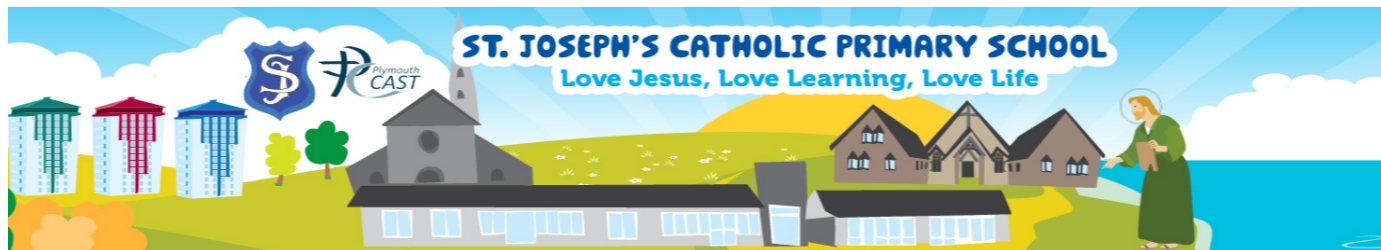

We have started to receive some slips in the 'I wish my teacher knew' box at the school reception. Some of them have been incredibly helpful and eye-opening, not necessarily around changes needing to be implemented, but information on your children that we may not have known beforehand - thank you. This will be available all year round.

This week, I led an assembly online to both schools about Diversity. It is important to me that we address our PSHE curriculum as a whole school family as well as our weekly worship times - the children engaged really well, and it was a lovely opportunity for both schools to come together remotely. Next Wednesday, our PSHE assembly will be led by Mr Driscoll from The Cathedral school based on Resilience.

I do have one plea which is to ask you all to ensure children come to school in the correct uniform. Thank you to those that do - when children are dressed in the correct uniform, they model our high expectations and pride to be part of our school. A school tie is part of our uniform policy.

And finally, you will have seen a letter this week about clubs. Please ensure you sign up to the clubs so Miss Welsh can organise the lists.

Have a wonderful weekend.
God bless,
Mr M Dyson
